From the President's Pen

By Geraldine Mola, GSBC President.

Kudos

The Society owes a great deal to four outstanding officers for many years of work.

Nancy Groo has set an exceptionally high standard as Second Vice President and Library Chair, jobs she has held for the last five years. Her contribution to the Society has been immeasurable. After helping move the Society's collection to the Ridgewood Public Library, she assisted library personnel in finding a place for our books and materials. She has organized our patron assistant program, ordered subscriptions, purchased at least $5,000 in books and CDs, and served as one of the organizers of the Library Lock-in so successful it has become an annual event. Having completed the maximum term as Second VP, she was elected in November to a two-year term as Corresponding Secretary, and will now handle correspondence as well as fundraising for the Society.

Barbara Johansson, another five-year officer, was Corresponding Secretary from 2001-2006. She mailed cards of sympathy and congratulations, handled circulation of the Archivist and organized the Society's annual picnic for years. Recently elected to fill a one-year vacancy as Trustee, she will be working as Program co-chair in 2007. Thus we will continue to benefit from Barbara's capable efforts and fair, thoughtful approach to Board decisions.

For the last five years Arthur Simpson served on the Board of Trustees, initially as two-term First Vice President in charge of Programs, then as a Trustee and Program co-chair. During this time, he married, moved to New York City and in November welcomed his first child, daughter Catherine. Finding it difficult now to attend many meetings, he's been elected Advisor to the Board and will continue to assist GSBC as program consultant from his apartment across the Hudson.

When the Third Vice President resigned in 2003, Keith Borland gamely took on the job, handling it efficiently and well for more than three years. As he stepped down from the Board of Trustees in November, he said he is planning to relax for awhile before he takes on any more duties.

Many thanks to the four of them for their contributions to GSBC.

Special Genealogy Events for 2007

This year the Society is planning two major events for area genealogists and family historians. Save the dates for either or both of these special genealogy "happenings."

A Genealogy Seminar on Saturday, April 21, 2007, will be held right here in Bergen County, co-sponsored by GSBC and the Genealogical Society of New Jersey. The all-day event will feature Patricia Law Hatcher of Texas, a Certified Genealogist and Fellow of the American Society of Genealogists, noted lecturer, teacher, writer and editor of genealogy publications.

There will be two tracks of lectures offering a rich variety of topics for every attendee. Ms. Hatcher will present four classes on topics of documentation, research methodology, land records and producing a quality family history. A second track will be given by Michelle Chubenko and Larry Fermi, both accomplished speakers and genealogists, whose talks will include special censuses, finding immigrant origins, researching ancestors' localities, and house histories.

A brochure with details on time, venue and registration will be mailed soon, but for now be sure to circle the date so you don't miss it.

Irish Genealogy Conference

In June the Society will be host to Fintan Mullin, executive director of the Ulster Historical Foundation of Belfast. He and an associate will travel to Washington, D.C. as representatives of Northern Ireland, which is being feted at the Smithsonian Folklife Festival. While in America, their tour will include a stop in Ridgewood to lecture at a full-day Irish Genealogy Conference sponsored by GSBC. This will be their first visit to New Jersey in seven years.

The Ulster Historical Foundation is one of the principal genealogical research agencies in Ireland and a leading publisher of quality historical, educational, and genealogical books. It also operates a membership association called the Ulster Historical and Genealogical Guild, the aim of which is to bring together people from all over the world with an interest in finding out more about their Irish ancestors.

In recent years GSBC members have attended their lectures in Long Island, Connecticut, and Pennsylvania, and in September Ann Thompson attended the Foundation's fiftieth anniversary conference in Belfast. Enthusiastic about the research guidance they provide, she will chair the Society's Irish conference, which will be held on a Saturday in June at the Old Paramus Reformed Church in Ridgewood. Further details on this exciting event will be announced as soon as available.

Tribute Cards

This year GSBC is introducing Tribute Cards—a unique way to commemorate a special occasion, recognize a milestone, convey gratitude or express sympathy.

For a minimum contribution of $5, the Society will send out a personalized tribute card which acknowledges your donation on the recipient's behalf. These contributions will be used to support the study and preservation of family history.

Our tribute cards are attractively printed on parchment paper and mailed to the recipient you specify. The inside of the card names the person being honored, the reason for the donation and the person making it. The amount of the donation is not listed.

You can also order blank cards to keep handy and fill them in yourself. These may be purchased singly or in packages of 5 cards.

You will be able to order your tribute cards by internet or phone. Order forms will be available at meetings or on the GSBC website www.njgsbc.org. For further information and to order tribute cards, refer to the website or contact Nancy Groo at 201-447-0368 or nbgwick@aol.com.

Notice from the library

The library is now accepting amendments to published genealogies. If you think that something is wrong in a genealogy in our collection, you may offer your version (preferably with citations). These amendments will be filed in a binder at the beginning of the family genealogies in Genealogy Reference (929.2). Currently we have information on the Hopper, Van Houten, and Bessey families.

You can also submit it to Joe Boyle for inclusion in our Family Files. Joe would prefer a GEDCOM file, so he can import it more easily into his computer. He will eventually make all this information available on a CD that can be consulted in the library.

Archdiocese of Newark Archives

By Elizabeth O'Donnell. Reprinted from "Der Ahnenforscher" with permission from the author and the German Genealogy Group.

A glance through the membership list at the end of the German Genealogy Group surname directory made me realize that there are a number of members living in New Jersey or nearby in New York or Pennsylvania. I wondered how many of the GGG members have connections with the four counties of New Jersey that make up the Archdiocese of Newark and know about the Archdiocesan Archives.

In 1984 Pope John Paul II decreed that every diocese in the Roman Catholic Church must have an archives. Most Bishops appointed an Archivist and considered the job done. Archbishop Peter J. Gerety of the Archdiocese of Newark, New Jersey not only appointed an archivist but also designated The Msgr. William Noé Field Archives and Special Collections Center at Seton Hall University in South Orange, New Jersey as the repository for the important papers and artifacts of the Archdiocese. All parishes were instructed to send copies of historical documents to the Center for preservation. Many sent original incorporation documents, site maps, and architectural plans along with parish histories and reports. The Center also collects a wide variety of material related to the Catholic experience in New Jersey.

The Diocese of Newark, originally consisting of the entire state of New Jersey, was formed in 1852 by removing the northern part of the State from New York jurisdiction and the southern part from Philadelphia. James Roosevelt Bayley, a converted Episcopal priest and the nephew of St. Elizabeth Anne Seton, was named the first Bishop. He started Seton Hall as a seminary to educate young men of the Diocese for the priesthood. As the Catholic population in the State grew, Newark was elevated to an Archdiocese and other dioceses were formed to more adequately serve the needs of the parishioners. Newark now consists of the four most populated counties in the State - Bergen, Essex, Hudson, and Union. Over 2.3 million Catholics are served, making Newark the ninth largest diocese in the United States, although it is the third smallest in area. Only Brooklyn and St. Thomas V. I. are smaller.

In 1984, about the time that the Archdiocese was instituting the Archives, representatives of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints approached the Archbishop and asked for permission to microfilm individual parish records. Archbishop Gerety was of the opinion that copies of the registers were to the advantage of the parishioners, the parishes and the Archdiocese. Consequently, he allowed each parish and cemetery to be approached but did not require that they comply. More than two-thirds of the parishes choose to have records microfilmed. The Catholic Church has a privacy policy of seventy five years and that policy was generally honored.

In the four counties of the Archdiocese of Newark there are 261 parishes, the first, St. John's in Newark, formed in 1826 and the newest, The Church of the Korean Martyrs in Saddle Brook, formed in 1999. (The oldest parish in New Jersey is believed to be St. Joseph's in West Milford formed about 1765 and now in the Diocese of Paterson.) Approximately thirty parishes have been merged or suppressed (totally closed). Sixteen of the parishes in the Archdiocese were started to support an ethnically German population. Many other parishes had German parishioners who found it convenient to attend the local parish rather than travel to services.

The Catholic Church has always kept sacramental records pertaining to its parishioners. Every baptism, confirmation, and marriage is recorded in a parish register kept at the local level. Until Vatican II the entries were written in Latin in a stylized version of Library Copperplate, at best, or illegible handwriting, at worst, using a nibbed or fountain pen. An overworked parish clerk or priest could easily give up long before the correct entry was located unless specific dates and the names of all parties were provided. Many times this is the information that a genealogy researcher is looking for and all concerned are frustrated. There is no individual in any parish who has the job of doing research for genealogy and pastors are very reluctant to allow researchers direct access to the original registers.

The original microfilms for the Archdiocese of Newark are housed at the Family History Center in Salt Lake City, Utah and each participating parish was given a copy of the microfilm. A complete set of the films was sent to Seton Hall University. Original records for the suppressed parishes are also deposited at SHU. Records associated with merged parishes remain with the succeeding parish and records for closed schools generally stay with the parish if it is still open or are transferred to the Archdiocesan Education Office if the parish is closed. Orphanage records are sent to the Catholic Charities offices if the orphanage has been closed and these records are not available to the general public.

The Seton Hall University Archives and Special Collections is open for genealogy research by appointment. The staff will do research as time permits for an hourly fee. Professor Alan Delozier, University Archivist, and Dr. Kathleen Dodds, who is responsible for the Archdiocesan sacramental and genealogy services, prefer that researchers visit the premises. The "I found it" factor or a note in the record leading to a new source brings as much pleasure to them as it does to the researcher. Please call Dr. Kate at 973-761-9476 or email at doddska@shu.edu to request information or to make an appointment. Further information about the Archdiocese of Newark and specific parishes can be found at www.rcan.org.

In addition to the Archdiocesan Archives, The Msgr. William Noé Field Archives and Special Collections Center is the home of all things Seton Hall as well as an abundance of material on the Catholic experience in New Jersey. The McManus collection of Irish Literature and History, the Murphy Collection of Irish Literature, the Gerald Murphy Collection of Civil War Material, the Fr. Pierce Byrne Collection of Civil War Material, the Governor Brendon Byrne personal papers, and the Bernard Shanley papers are also housed at the Center.

LOOKUPS in FLORIDA. Art Hillier writes from Florida: I am a member of the society living in Florida. I have had many benefits from this society in the past. In the genealogical holdings of the Ridgewood library and from other members of the GSBC, I discovered my Cooper roots. I have done some transcribing for the society in the past as thanks. I now live in Tallahassee, FL, a short distance from the State Archives and Library and I would be happy to do any lookups that members of the GSBC would need from this source. I have joined the local genealogical society (which is very active) and I am sure I could also use their help in any search. My email address is art1ev2@comcast.net

New England CONNECTIONs, the ninth New England Regional Genealogical Conference, will be held April 26-29 2007 at the Connecticut Convention Center and Hartford Marriott Downtown in Hartford, CT and promises to build on the New England Regional Genealogical Consortium's tradition of excellence in providing genealogical lectures, seminars, and workshops; the Ancestors Road Show; a Society Fair; and banquets and luncheons for new and established genealogists alike.

Patricia Law Hatcher, Cyndi Howells, Hank Jones, and over 40 other national, regional, and society-sponsored speakers will help genealogists "connect" to a wide variety of topics. In addition, there will be opportunities to visit vendors in the Exhibit Hall. A "Librarians Day" pre-conference is also in the works.

Hartford is a genealogical and historical haven, home of the Connecticut State Library and Connecticut Historical Society Museum, and historic sites such as the former homes of Mark Twain and Harriet Beecher Stowe. The Godfrey Library in Middletown and Connecticut Society of Genealogists library in East Hartford are not far away.

In the latest e-mail letter Arnie Lang described a number of sites for passenger list information. I am reprinting them here for those who do not receive the email letter.

Hamburg Passenger on-line at Ancestry.com

More passenger lists are being added to the Internet every month. This month, Ancestry.com placed the Hamburg Passenger List database on line. This database contains passenger lists generated as the ships departed from the port of Hamburg, Germany from 1850-1934 (with a gap from 1915-1919 due to World War I). These are the same passenger lists that were originally available only on microfilm (Their value is that they include some information not always on other passenger lists; one major point is the place of origin of the passenger). This database includes images of the passenger lists digitized from the microfilms in partnership with the Hamburg State Archive and presently includes an index from 1890 to 1930. Up until now, the Hamburg State Archives had been "slowly" placing these records on line - they can be found at: http://www.hamburg.de/fhh/behoerden/staatsarchiv/link_to_your_roots/english/

Passenger Arrival Lists at Ancestry.com

Last year, Ancestry.com already had placed on-line many passenger arrival lists of ships arriving from Hamburg, other European ports, and from other parts of the world as well. These include New York Passenger Lists - 1820-1957, Baltimore (1820-1948), Boston (1820-1943), New Orleans (1820-1945), Philadelphia (1800-1945), and other U.S. ports.

Departures from the British Isles - 1890 to 1960

Findmypast.com, in association with The National Archives, is placing a new database on-line featuring the Outward Passenger Lists for ships leaving the British Isles. (Previous lists for departures from the British Isles are unavailable because they were all destroyed by a fire at the archives at Kew.) Ultimately, the lists dating from 1890 to 1960 will be placed on line. Currently only those lists from 1890-1899 are available. The basic search for your ancestor is free, however, a charge will be made to obtain copies of the documents. Go to: <http://www.ancestorsonboard.com>

If you have difficulty finding your ancestor on these passenger lists, it is strongly suggested that you search as many different databases as possible both on the web and on CD-ROM's (available at the library). Remember, ALL database indexes have errors and omissions (sometimes the complete list for a ship is missing). Keep looking and you may find that "problem" ancestor on a different database. Many of these on-line databases are free.

For more information and links to the URL addresses for these web sites. Go to: Immigration and Ships Passenger Lists Research Guide at: <http://home.att.net/~arnielang/shipguide.html>

2006 Genealogy Conference and Cruise

by Joe Boyle
If you have questions e-mail me at jboyle3@aol.com

I recently returned from the above cruise which was sponsored by Wholly Genes Software, distributor of The Master Genealogist (TMG). We cruised aboard the Diamond Princess, a ship that holds 3500 people when fully loaded. There were about 2400 passengers on the ship and about 400 in the Wholly Genes group. We left Los Angeles on 11 Nov and returned on 18 Nov, stopping at Puerto Vallarta, Mazatlan and Cabo San Lucas. Most of the lectures were given in the four days at sea.

You may ask "Why should I go on a cruise rather than land based genealogy conferences?" I think there are several reasons. During a cruise there is a chance to interact with many more people since no one disappears to various hotels at the end of the day. Most land based conferences last only 2 or 3 days whereas this was a full week of jam packed genealogy. In addition, I think the cost of a cruise conference is cheaper on a daily basis since the cost of the conference, meals and lodging is all included. The cost varies with the type of cabin and I paid about $2,000 for a mini-suite with a balcony; smaller cabins were in the $1600-1800 range.

The lecturers were an outstanding group, including: Dick Eastman, Tony Burroughs, Robert Charles Anderson, Marsha Hoffman Rising, Hank Jones, Tim Cook and Megan Smolenyak Smolenyak. In addition to these renowned genealogists there were a number of lectures by employees of Wholly Genes Software dealing with uses of TMG. Many people on the cruise were not users of TMG but were on the cruise to hear talks by the outstanding group of lecturers. Some of the topics: Genealogy Searches on Google (Eastman), Digital Video (Burroughs), Transatlantic Migration (Anderson), The Critical Connection Linking the Generations Between 1850 and the Colonial Period (Rising), When the Sources Are Wrong (Jones), Navigating the National Archives (Burroughs), Pearls for Finding People (Rising), Trace Your Roots with DNA (Smolenyak), The Latest Technology for Genealogists (Eastman), Tribal and BIA Affairs (Cook), Before There Were Counties There Were Colonies (Anderson), Find That Obituary! Online Newspaper Research (Smolenyak), I Don't Chase Dead Germans They Chase Me! (Jones). Lectures relating to TMG software included beginning, intermediate and advanced topics, TMG reports, genealogy charts as well talks on TMG supplemental programs called TMG Utility and Second Site by John Cardinal. There were door prizes handed out after each of the lectures, usually 2 or 3 per lecture. These usually were books published by the particular lecturer. In addition each participant received a $250 credit voucher to CD Archive Books that publishes out of copyright genealogy volumes on CD, which makes the cruise even cheaper.

In addition to the formal lectures there were other opportunities to meet the experts. There were "One-on-Ones": 15 minute scheduled meetings with any of the lecturers or TMG employees, allowing people to have a free 15 minute consultation with these experts. I heard of several people who scheduled back to back sessions so they had 30 minutes to talk about their genealogy or software problems. There were also "Hosted Breakfasts": Seven people met with one of the experts during a breakfast and discussed any topics that came up, allowing you to bring up your own project and compare with others in the group.

The Princess Cruise Line is unique in its dinner format. You can opt for the typical dinner seating in which you are assigned a table in a restaurant and you sit there with the same people through-out the cruise. Princess also offers an option called "personal choice" that allows you to go to any one of about five different restaurants at any time, just like going to a restaurant on shore. This allows you to eat with any group of people. It was very easy to find a group to hang out with since everyone had a common interest: genealogy. We had many great discussions over dinner. I was somewhat disappointed with the food at dinner compared to some other cruises I have been on. With 2400+ passengers I think the kitchens were overwhelmed. The vegetables often seemed to have come out of a steam table and the meat frequently was overdone. There was also the option to eat at the buffet restaurant that provided a wide variety of foods that were well prepared and presented. Breakfasts and lunches were always delicious with a wide variety of selections.

Was the cruise worthwhile? I would give it an outstanding score for both content and pleasure. Will I attend the 2007 cruise? Undoubtedly if I am still able to travel. For someone else's opinion see the review of this cruise at <http://www.shoestringgenealogy.com/article/Cruise2006.htm>.

Both these sources came to us from the Allen County Public Library Newsletter, the first thanks to Margaret Kaiser, the second thanks to Peggy Norris. Both are available through the Family History Centers of the LDS.

Index to Damages in New Jersey by the British and Americans, 1776 to 1782. This title consists of three rolls of microfilm, of which the first one is a typescript surname index to the other two. The originals are in the NJ State Archives in Trenton. The index lists name, place of residence, whether the damage was done by the Americans or the British, the number of the claim, and sometimes occupation. The actual claims contain inventories of lost property, and can give an insight in the contents of houses and farms of those times. The first of the two rolls covers Franklin and Saddle River townships of Bergen County, as well as Burlington, Middlesex, and Somerset counties. The second contains Passaic and Essex counties (incl. the city of Newark), additional parts of Bergen, Burlington, and Somerset counties, and Morris County. Each volume varies in arrangement: some have page numbers, while others are arranged by claim number. Sometimes it is difficult to determine what county is being examined as some volumes have nothing written on their title pages. Despite the difficulties, this is a great resource. The George O. Zabriskie Collection. George Olin Zabriskie, FASG (1904-1988) was a leading authority on colonial Dutch families of New Netherland. He was a frequent contributor of articles about Dutch families in New York and New Jersey, which were published in a variety of scholarly journals from the 1950s to the 1980s. In the course of his research, he amassed an extensive collection of files containing family group charts, notes, colonial church record abstracts, local history, and correspondence, which he later offered to the Genealogical Society of Utah for microfilming. The collection contains much information on Dutch colonial families, especially in Bergen County, N. J., where his Zabriskie family originated. In addition to Zabriskie, there are many other surnames: Ackerman, Bogert/Bogardus, Van Horne, Willsie, Moyle, Blauvelt, Bertholf, Terhune, Van Saun, VanderBeek, Westervelt, and many others. A more complete inventory can be found in the catalog of the Family History Library at www.familysearch.org and searching under the microfilm numbers 1421759 - 1421776. Zabriskie used some of the data to compile his two-volume Zabriskie Family, publ. in 1963, and many of his articles, but it is not clear how much material was never published. Using the collection is not easy, because the material is not well organized and lacks both a published guide (except for the FHL Catalog) and an index. There are no page numbers and it is difficult to cite. However, the collection is worth a look, especially if you want to explore the research notes of a published article by Zabriskie in further detail.

Volume XXXIV, Issue 2

May 2007

From the President's Pen

By Geraldine Mola, GSBC President.

GSBC's first four months of 2007 have been exhaustingly busy! And, I must add, gratifyingly successful!

Our program speakers have certainly been playing to a packed house. Since January, three meetings have been attended by over ninety members and guests – and for two of those meetings, we had to add seating to accommodate over 100. Many came to hear specific program topics; they were not disappointed because our speakers have been excellent.

Spring Genealogy Seminar 2007 was a rousing success enjoyed by many GSBC and GSNJ members plus genealogy enthusiasts from throughout the state, New York and Ohio. Results of a survey that day gave the speakers, the facility, the lunch caterer and the exhibitors very positive marks.

Working with the Genealogical Society of New Jersey to present this program was a great learning experience for us and crucial to the success of the event. Because of the partnership, we were able to offer three speakers in a two-track program that would have been well beyond our program budget (or our members') if we had attempted the project on our own.

With input from our Board on specific topics, GSNJ played a major part in selecting the speakers and setting up the schedule. The experience and contacts of the state organization proved invaluable in this part of the planning. They also have a significant membership and mailing list to which they sent information and publicity.

Our share of the responsibility involved arrangements. GSBC was instrumental in selecting Bergen Community College as the venue and Best of Everything of Ridgewood as the caterer for lunch. Both proved to be excellent representatives of Bergen County. We also reached out to northern New Jersey and nearby New York genealogical Societies, sending brochures to members of these organizations and inviting the groups to exhibit.

Thanks must be extended to the many Society members who contributed to the event. Special accolades go to GSBC Steering Committee members, who worked with me from the initial planning stages: Nancy Groo, my closest assistant, who worked on final details and oversaw the on-site arrangements for library and organization tables; Maria Hopper, whose insight and experience were very helpful; Margaret Kaiser, who gave considerable time to researching venues; and Arnold Lang, who did his usual great job in setting up the seminar site on the web.

A sincere thank you is also given to those who pitched in on the day of the event:

- Registration: Marion Armstrong, who, in addition to making advance calls to volunteers, did an excellent job handling sign-in, along with Elsie Caning, Anne Greene and Sharon Olsen.
- Staffing or providing materials for the GSBC exhibit and sale table were: Ruth Bauer, Mary Boutin, Afina Broekman, Barbara Johansson, Peggy Norris, and Joe Suplicki.
- Distributing box lunches: Lucille Bertram, Carol De Witte, Barbara Flurchick, Gail Freeman-Szal, Nancy Klujber, Peggy O'Hagen and JoAnn Vislocky.

The next few months will be equally busy for Society members. I invite you all to welcome new members at a Social to be held on Monday evening May 14 and to join us for an informal get-together at our annual picnic on Saturday, June 9. And for anyone who has Irish roots, be sure to take advantage of the Irish Genealogy Conference we're sponsoring on June 16.

I also invite you to continue making the most of the varied events we schedule to get to know other members and to learn more about our fascinating pastime of genealogy.

In Memoriam: Ida Marie Demarest Owens

OWENS, IDA-MARIE (néé Demarest) age 93 of Oradell, NJ died of a heart attack on Saturday, March 24, 2007. She was born on December 9, 1913 in Oradell to Clotilda and Milton Demarest. She was the widow of Richard Cameron Owens who died in September of 1990. Beloved mother of Kathy Owens Daansen and her husband Warren of Nashua, New Hampshire. Dear sister of Constance Demarest Schultz and her husband Joseph of Houston, Texas. She graduated from St. Elizabeth's College in Morristown, NJ and held a graduate degree from the University of Bonn, Germany. Mrs. Owens was a German translator at Fort Campbell, Kentucky during WW II. Later she taught at St. Joseph's School in Oradell and later became the Director of Foreign Languages at Ramapo High School. Mrs. Owens was also the director of St. Joseph's Choir for many years. At age 75 she became a member of the Board of Education at St. Joseph's School. Interment was at St. Joseph's Cemetery, Hackensack, NJ.

She was an active member of our Society, and was secretary in the late eighties, during the presidencies of Ed Mazalec and Louisa Lavelle. Members who still remember her know she always used her full name when she concluded her reading of the minutes. She also always included the women's maiden names. As a direct descendant of David Demarest and a life long resident of Oradell, she was related to many in the Society. Her name can be found in one of the two volumes of the Demarest Genealogy.

Notes from the Library

By Peggy Norris, Local History Librarian, Ridgewood Library

When you know your name, you should hang on to it, for unless it is noted down and remembered, it will die when you do. Toni Morrison

We deal with names all the time and we do hope that someone noted it down, so that we can remember it. But do you really think about names. There are many types of name books to help. Use these naming books to expand your search for those elusive ancestors—they did not always use the same name or spelling!

First Names

The first question we often ask is “what does it mean?” For example, Margaret comes from the Greek word for pearl. Meanings are especially found in baby-naming books. More important than meaning are nationality and nicknames. A Dictionary of First Names (Reference 929.44 H241.) lists the origin of the name (in this case English and Scottish), its historic derivation (from Old French, Latin, and Greek), its cognates or forms in other languages (Margherita in Italian), its short forms (e.g. Meg), and its pet forms (e.g. Marge). The cognates, short, and pet forms are also listed by nationality. Surprisingly this volume includes two supplements—one on Arabic and one on Indian common names. You never know what you will find. Always check a book carefully to see what it contains!

Surnames, Last Name

Surnames are a “recent” invention—being adopted in different cultures at different times. They are names handed down from father (usually) to his children and then to their children. Surnames are common throughout the world, but there are still people in some areas that go by one name. Before the use of surnames a person could be known by first name only or by an appellation indicating relationship (John’s son or wife), deriving from a particular place (Simon van Arsdale or Andrew by the stream), by occupation (Tom the baker), etc. These were not hereditary names. However, some of them became actual surnames, often when some kind of official ruling required them to choose a surname.

A Dictionary of Surnames (Reference 929.42 H241) has 70,000 names used in the English-speaking world. Most of these names are of European origin. In addition, cognates or equivalents in other languages are given. All of these variant names are in the index, so it is easy to check a name to see what the English usage might be, as many of our ancestors anglicized their names in this country. Cognates, diminutives, patronymics and more are listed under each name. For example, Simon has well over 100 variants.

We also have books specializing in names from a particular area or language—German, Chinese, Scottish,

Hispanic, Polish, Italian, Dutch, and English. Search BCCLS catalog with the keywords: “names” and the ethnic group.

Good hunting!

All-day Irish Seminar

For those of you researching Irish roots, we've got a great all-day seminar for you on Saturday, June 16 called "Searching Irish and Scots-Irish Roots." The two speakers will be "crossing the pond" from Ireland and coming to the Old Paramus Reformed Church in Ridgewood to present seven different topics. They are true experts in their field, so get all those brick wall questions ready, as there will be plenty of time for Q & A.

Mr. Fintan Mullan and Dr. Brian Trainor from the Ulster Historical Foundation have undertaken annual lecture tours of the US, in addition to speaking in Australia, New Zealand, Great Britain and Canada. It's been seven years since they've been to New Jersey, so we are very happy to host them. The Ulster Historical Foundation is one of the principal genealogical research agencies in Ireland and a leading publisher of quality books on Irish history and genealogy. They have published over 200 titles on subjects which include the domestic linen industry, Gaelic culture and commemorations of the 1798 rebellion. They have also published over 30 volumes of grave-stone inscriptions and are the main distributor of the Ordnance Survey Memoirs. These very helpful books for Irish researchers which are hard to find elsewhere, will be available for viewing and purchase. Check out their book website at www.booksireland.org.uk and if you're interested in requesting a specific book, they will be happy to bring it with them. Just e-mail your request to irishseminargsbc@yahoo.com or call Ann @ 973-427-3840 by June 1. Free literature packs will also be available to all participants, including a range of useful genealogical and tourist related material. Our speakers have also been invited to participate in the Smithsonian Folklife Festival from June 27 - July 8th, so they will be heading down to Washington, DC after they leave us.

Your day will start with some delicious homemade Irish Soda Bread, provided with morning coffee & tea from 8:30 - 9am. The presentation relates to research on all of Ireland and will start with 3 sessions prior to lunch and 2 sessions afterward, ending at 3:30pm. Additional time to browse/purchase books will be 3:30 - 4:00pm. The well-known Baskingers will be providing box lunches for additional cost of $7.00. Topics will include:

"Introduction to Irish and Scots-Irish Family History Research"

"Irish and Scots-Irish Research: Not Always at the Bottom of the Pile"

"Irish Census Records and Griffiths Valuation"

"Using the Internet and CD-ROMS for Irish Genealogy"

"Lesser known sources that are useful in finding Irish Catholic Ancestors"

"Emigration from the North of Ireland to North America in the 18th Century"

"The Great Famine in Ireland and Emigration to North America, 1845-1856"

Register now! Cost for members is $25, prior to May 25, 2007. For registration after May 25, cost is $30. Seating is limited, so register early. Registration forms can be found on the society's website at: www.njgsbc.org

NJGS/GSBC Spring Seminar

April 21, 2007 was a glorious day for outdoor activities, but about 150 people chose to spend it indoors to listen to Patricia Hatcher, Larry Fermi and Michele Chubenko lecture on a number of topics of genealogical interest. Pat's lectures ranged from land records to proper source documentation, producing a quality family history, and finding the hidden information in your own files. Larry talked on finding clues to your immigrant ancestor's origins, and searching for the history and previous owners of your house or land. Finally Michele taught us how to research the localities where our ancestors lived, and about the lesser known special censuses and lists (like tax lists, jury lists, school lists, military lists) that can place people in a time and location.

A syllabus was provided, with a good synopsis of the lectures. Lunch was good, and there were a number of genealogical societies and one book vendor to browse for information during breaks.

We thank the people who worked very hard to make this a success. It was certainly a worthwhile way to spend a Saturday!

“Google Books intends to scan every book ever published and to make the full texts available in the same way that Web sites can be searched on the company’s search engine at google.com” In case it sounds like a science fiction tale, or a ‘tale told by an idiot signifying nothing’, wait just a moment. The quote is from “Google’s Moon Shot” in The New Yorker, Feb. 5, 2007. If you want to try it yourself, just go to books.google.com, and type in a few pertinent search terms.

I have an ancestor named "Waldron Kelly." I typed in his name and was rewarded with a list of books that contained references to him, as well as direct quotes from the books and a map of places mentioned in the book. I searched for another ancestor, also named Kelly, using his last name and his regiment in the British army, and brought up the complete text of a huge book containing lists of officers and men wounded or killed, promoted or married during the Napoleonic War. It is absolutely amazing!

The books being scanned are from Stanford University (1,000 books a day) and from Oxford, Harvard and the New York Public Library among others. While there are copyright problems in the courts, Google Book Search is a steamroller. Try it, and if you find something, do let your fellow researchers know.

Help Needed

The Bergen County Historical Society has been devastated by the loss of a significant part of Bergen County's history during this recent flood. Many priceless artifacts, entrusted to the care of the state in the Steuben House at Historic New Bridge Landing, which we have furnished for the past seventy years, have been damaged. They appeal to everyone who values this great heritage for help. As a volunteer organization, they have limited resources. For more information, Email them at: contactBCHS@bergencountyhistory.org

Many people have inquired how they might help the Bergen County Historical Society in its efforts to restore the museum collections and get them into a safe museum building. Donations to the Museum Committee may be made to: BCHS Museum Conservation, PO Box 55, River Edge, NJ 07761.

On the lighter side

Twisted Relations

Thanks to Martha Winship

Two men met recently and struck up a conversation. One was telling the other one about some problems he was having with one of his kids.

After a while the other guy said: "You think you have family problems? Get a load of my situation. A few years ago I met a young widow with a grown-up daughter and we got married. Later, my father married my stepdaughter. That made my stepdaughter my stepmother and my father became my stepson".

"Also, my wife became mother-in-law of her father-in-law. And then the daughter of my wife, my stepmother, had a son. This boy was my halfbrother, because he was my father's son, but he was also the son of my wife's daughter, which made him my wife's grandson. That made me grandfather of my halfbrother".

"This was nothing, until my wife and I had a son. Now the sister of my son, my mother-in-law, is also the grandmother. This makes my father the brother-in-law of my child, whose stepsister is my father's wife".

"I am my stepmother's brother-in-law, my wife is her own child's aunt, my son is my father's nephew, and I am my own grandfather. Sheesh, and you think you have family problems".

August 2007

From the President's Pen

By Geraldine Mola, GSBC President.

Did GSBC make Ripley's? We should have. After all, how many organizations, whatever the interest, have managed to sponsor two seminars within the same club year? No doubt the answer is few, if any!

Our second seminar—The GSBC Irish Genealogy Conference—held June 16 was another huge success with 140 registrations and a comprehensive series of lectures on searching Scots-Irish heritage.

Credit for the fine event rests largely with the small steering committee led by chairman Ann Thompson, who, with Diane Winters, originally suggested a lecture by Fintan Mullan from the Ulster Historical Foundation in Belfast, Ireland, whose lectures they had attended in Long Island and Connecticut. Under their leadership, what began as a simple program grew to a full-day seminar that also included Dr. Brian Trainer.

Ann and Diane were ably assisted by committee members Judy Kenney, Barbara Ellman and Liz Nissen. Together this committee of five handled a large job efficiently and well.

Members who assisted the committee either before or on the day of the seminar include Marion Armstrong, Kate Belanger, Lucille Bertram, Afina Broekman, Barbara Cantwell, Winnie Derfus, John Egan, Gail Freeman-Szal, Barbara Flurchick, Nancy Groo, Margaret Kaiser, Peggy Norris, Peggy O'Hagan, Nancy Ronning, Joe Suplicki, Pat Van Steyn and Jo Ann Vislocky. All who contributed deserve our thanks.

The Society is very grateful, too, for the hospitality of Jane Rymer, Ann's aunt, who not only offered our Irish guests overnight bed and board in her Ridgewood home, but also hosted a delightful Irish welcome for them with a Friday evening reception the evening before the seminar.

Genealogy Seminar 2008. It was not surprising, with the seminar experience GSBC acquired this year, that the Board enthusiastically agreed to sponsor another genealogy conference in 2008. Do you have any suggestions for topics you'd like covered or speakers you'd like to hear? We're open for your viewpoints and welcome any of you who are interested to help plan the event.

Meeting our membership. New members got an overview of the organization, met officers and trustees, and enjoyed a full table of refreshments at the New Member Social in May. It was a pleasant evening, and we thank Barbara Flurchik and those who assisted for "pitching in."

In the more casual setting of Dunkerhook Park in early June, we had a relaxed, informal opportunity to make "small talk" instead of discussing club business or genealogy. Thanks are extended to Barbara Johansson and Nancy Ronning for making arrangements and to Joe Boyle for once again handling the grill.

Both the Social and Picnic were very nice occasions to get to know other members, and I thoroughly enjoyed them.

Board transition. Trustees regretfully accepted the resignation of trustee Nancy Ronning, a valuable member of the Board, whose travel and personal commitments make it impossible for her to continue on the Board. Elected to fill the vacant position was Patricia Van Steyn, who has served as GSBC publicity chairman for over ten years.

It's also time to begin considering nominations for Club Year 2007-2008. Working on this will be Diane Winters as chair and Barbara Ellman. One additional member is needed to serve on the Nominating Committee. If you're willing to do so, please let me know.

Traveling genealogy display. Arnie Lang, our immediate past president, developed a genealogy display for his hometown library. GSBC is now sponsoring it as a traveling exhibit for other interested libraries, and Arnie will adapt it for each facility. If your library has space and time to show it, please contact Afina Broekman at 201-703-8699 or afinab@hotmail.com.

Willing to volunteer for the Seminar or Nominating Committees? Or do you have any suggestions you'd like considered? If so, please contact me personally at 201-797-2109 or Gerimola@aol.com. I'll be looking forward to hearing from you.

From the Editor

We hope you are having a wonderful summer with many new genealogical discoveries. In this issue we are starting a new series: our member Pat Wardell has transcribed obituaries from the Bergen County Democrat, starting from 1861. She has published these on the web, but gave us permission to reprint them. We have a report on the very successful Irish Seminar, and lots of other information. Send us your comments and thoughts.

Please send your comments (negative or positive) and submissions to: afinab@hotmail.com or to the Society's mailbox. Deadline for submissions to the November Archivist is Oct 15.

Letter to the Editor

I received the following email from our member Robert Griffin:

Re: your article about Abstracts of Rev. War Pension records. The listing for Simon Simonson, b. 1750 reminded me of an interesting adventure I had in 1992 while serving as Township historian in Teaneck. I received a call from a woman whose father was about to move from his historic home located on the Fairleigh Dickinson Univ. campus in Teaneck. She explained that in the early 1950s, she and her sister "rescued" from the blade of a bulldozer that was clearing the area for construction of dormitory apartments a gravestone from a colonial cemetery located directly in front of their house. It had since been stored in her father's garage, and she was looking to give it to the Township.

The stone was in two pieces, but otherwise in remarkably good condition. It bears the following inscription:

Here lies the Body of Simon Simonson
who departed this life May Ye 31st
A.D. 1785 in Ye 84th
Year of his Age

This Simon Simonson was the son of Art(3), Simon Barents(2), Baronet(1) Simons. He is listed on a 1784 Bergen Co. Tax List as a mill owner. The mill stood on the east side of the Hackensack River near the Court St. bridge in Bogota/Hackensack. Among his 12 known children with his wife Sarah (Van Pelt), number 7 (in birth year order) was Simon Simonson, the individual you cited in your article. Simon (the son) is bur. at the Church on the Green in Hackensack.

Artistic markings and images on the gravestone strongly suggest it was the work of E. Price, a noted stonecarver in the Morristown area.

I drove around with the very heavy stone in the back of my car for several days while trying to decide what to do with it. Teaneck doesn't have a historical society or museum, but I felt strongly that it should stay in Teaneck. Finally, after someone warned me of the dangers of its being spotted by authorities, I "unloaded" it on the director of the Teaneck Public Library. It remains in his office, as far as I know.

Thanks for the reminder.

And thank you, Bob, for sharing an interesting story!

Databases

HeritageQuest Online is not only available in the Ridgewood Public Library, but is available from home to all New Jersey residents with their library card. Go to the Research Databases page at www.ridgewoodlibrary.org for a link.

Access NewspaperArchive, is a free database available at the Ridgewood Public Library. It contains tens of millions of searchable newspaper pages, dating from the 1700s to the 1970's. New Jersey newspapers are excluded. Access this database through the Library webpage at the Library.

Ridgewood Public Library (with grant funding and volunteers from the Society) has indexed the State Census for 1885, 1895, 1905, and 1915 for Ridgewood and surrounding towns. These censuses provide details about family composition, occupations, birthplace and more. The actual census pages can be viewed on microfilm at several libraries or by ordering film through the Family History Centers. For details and the indexes see the Library website at: www.ridgewoodlibrary.org/localhistory/local_history_census_index.htm

Funding for this index has been made possible in part through grant funds administered by the Bergen County Department of Parks, Division of Cultural and Historic Affairs through a General Operating Support grant from the New Jersey Historical Commission, a Division of Cultural Affairs in the Department of State. Additional funds were provided by the Ridgewood Public Library. Volunteers from the Genealogical Society of Bergen County also made significant contributions to the project.

Early American Roads

Study of early roads (and waterways) yields insight into migration and travel routes. Sometimes they also show details of communities and local inhabitants. If you have no ancestors from early America, search out maps and atlases that cover your place and time period.

William Dollarhide's excellent book, Map guide to American Migration Routes, 1735-1815, gives an overview of the main roads in the colonies and into the beginning of the nineteenth century. He discusses and shows on clear maps "Colonial Roads to 1750," "Colonial Roads, 1750-1775," "Roads to the Ohio Country," and "Roads to the Old Southwest." Using these maps I can see how my ancestors migrated from Somerset County, New Jersey, to Lancaster County, Pennsylvania and on to Virginia (now West Virginia) and then on to Kentucky and Ohio. They likely followed the King's Highway, the Lancaster Road, the Great Valley Road, Braddock's Road, and the Wilderness Road, as well as the Ohio River. What adventurers they were!

There are two interesting books in our collection that have strip maps. These maps sketch the course of a particular route (e.g. New York to Philadelphia), rather than showing a broad area. The maps show homeowners, topographical features, and landmarks such as mills and taverns. A facsimile copy of A Survey of the Roads of the United States of America, 1789 by Christopher Colles was published in 1961 with extensive introductory material and indexes. Maps include routes to Stratford (Connecticut), Albany, Trenton, Philadelphia, Annapolis, and Williamsburg. If your ancestor lived on one of these routes in 1789 his home might be identified on one of these maps!

Another book of early maps is New Jersey Road Maps of the 18th Century, Princeton University Library, 1964. There are 4 maps following various routes—Trenton to Amboy (1762), The Division line between Middlesex and Somerset Counties (1766), the route of the French army across New Jersey (August 1781), and the main road from Philadelphia to New York (1804).

The next source is E. Kay Kirkham's A Genealogical and Historical Atlas of the United States of America published in 1976. She reprints maps from 1790-1909. Many of them show roads and railroads, as well as rivers. Bring your magnifying glass. The reproduction is small.

Melinda Kashuba, Walking with your Ancestors: A Genealogist's Guide to Using Maps and Geography has a chapter "Migration Trails Across America" that discusses the kind of maps available to help with migration research and how to find them. This chapter covers the entire period of migration, not just early American.

Good hunting with maps!

All-day Irish Seminar

By Nancy Ronning

"and this is the way your ancestor sounded"

(Irish Seminar, June 16, 2007.)

We search for ancestors' photos, marvel at signatures, but how many of us wonder about the voices, the accents!

To be sure, if you had Northern Irish Ancestors, they probably sounded very much like Fintan Mullan and Dr. Brian Trainor who gave a wildly popular Seminar on June 16th 2007 before an appreciative audience of 140 GSBC members and friends. Fintan spoke quickly, very quickly, and we listened hard and learned about amazing sources in the North and in the Republic for finding those elusive ancestors, as he debunked the myth that "everything was lost." Brian was both historian and storyteller. Ann Thompson and her committee did a fabulous job of arranging the day, and bringing two top notch, internationally acclaimed genealogists from the Ulster Historical Foundation in Belfast, Northern Ireland to Ridgewood.

I for one, had a fabulous time, and while I still have to refer to my notes for lots of facts, there, in the front of my consciousness will be the command to "Listen!" Listen to the brogues, the burrs, the half dozen languages and the accented English of immigrants from the homes of all of our ancestors.

Anne received a thank you email from Dr. Trainor that I think should be printed here, as it reflects all our thanks to Ann and her committee.

"Thank you for your magnificent effort in organizing the workshop for us at Ridgewood on 16 June 2007. An attendance of 140 was exceptional. There were many quality people keenly interested in our work with potential members of the new organization that we hope to establish in America, that is Friends of Ulster Historical Foundation."

Query.

Q2001-01. Christer Svensson from Sweden writes:

I record date and place of birth and death of every racing driver, who has started in the Formula 1 World Championship. One of them was Robert O'Brien. I have two persons with that name, who could be the driver, and I need help to establish if one of them is my man.

Shall We Go to Salt Lake City Together?

By Nancy Ronning

I've mentioned at a couple of meetings that I would be willing to coordinate a trip to the Family History Library in Salt Lake City sometime in late September or early October of 2008. If we are going to go, I better get busy and check out hotel reservations, lecture series, some meals etc. And we all better start the hard work of preparing – knowing exactly what we want and need in Salt Lake City and notifying the library in advance when possible.

I will definitely not do any airline reservations, but will coordinate with members and arrange for transportation to the hotel.

So...the question is...do YOU want to go? If you can say with 90% certainty that the answer is "yes," then please email me and let me know who you are. I'll start arrangements if I get eight or more positive responses. I only want to know the number of researchers.

If you have a spouse or friend who is "just along for the ride" I don't need to know at this time. If you are going to room with a fellow researcher, let me know who that is. If you'd like a roommate, let me know that, too.

Let me know which week would be good...or...which dates are bad. I want to avoid holidays or major events.

We'll see.....nronning@yahoo.com 201-327-1163

FamilySearch Unveils Program to Increase Access to World's Genealogical Records

From Roots-L via Geri Mola

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH. FamilySearch announced its Records Access program to increase public access to massive genealogy collections worldwide. For the first time ever, FamilySearch will provide free services to archives and other records custodians who wish to digitize, index, publish, and preserve their collections. The program expands FamilySearch's previously announced decision to digitize and provide online access to over 2 million rolls of copyrighted microfilm preserved in the Granite Mountain Records Vault. A key component of the program allows FamilySearch and archives to team with genealogy websites to provide unprecedented access to microfilm in the vault. The combined results ensure a flood of new record indexes and images online at www.FamilySearch.org and affiliated websites.

Items announcing marriages and deaths from the Bergen County Democrat

Transcribed by Patricia A. Wardell.

Introduction

This listing was made by Patricia A. Wardell, beginning January 1991, from microfilm reels of issues of the newspaper in the Johnson Public Library, Hackensack, NJ and the library of Bergen Community College, Ridgewood, NJ. Not every issue is included in the microfilm (probably just those in existence); and not every existing issue contained marriage and death columns. The newspaper was published weekly, on Fridays, at Hackensack, Bergen County, N.J.

Although I have tried to be as accurate as possible, apologies are made for errors. Anyone familiar with using microfilmed newspapers (especially ones over 100 years old) knows that often the films are not as legible as one would wish, either because of poor filming or because the newspaper itself is not legible (poor print quality, folds or tears in the paper, foxing on old newsprint, etc.)

Where an entry was questionable, I have drawn attention by enclosing the suspected character(s) in square brackets with a question mark ([J.?]). Where a character or characters are missing or completely illegible, I have so indicated by using a long dash enclosed in square brackets ([-]). I have used ellipses (...) to indicate that there was more to a particular entry than I have transcribed here. I have excluded some information that was not deemed useful for genealogical purposes. For instance, a few death notices included information about the time and place of the funeral, while others, following the custom of the time, included flowery memorial verses, etc. In general, I have included only marriages and deaths recorded in the particular columns so headed in the newspaper. Before 1865, the paper printed very little local news. Beginning about 1865, some local items appear, and eventually this local news reportage evolved into specific columns headed by the name of the community. The local community columns often contain items relating to births, marriages and deaths. In general, I have not attempted to read these local columns for births, marriages and deaths. However, occasionally I have noticed and included here an item from one of these local news columns. These particular items are here distinguished by being preceded by an asterisk (*). The date of the heading is the newspaper issue date.

Take Another Look: Early Bergen County Resources

Many GSBC members have joined the Society specifically because they are researching early Bergen County or New Jersey ancestors. The combined GSBC/Ridgewood Public Library collection has many different types of resources to help them in their research. Some of these resources might be unfamiliar to you. A stroll along the shelves in the Genealogy Reference section might help put you on the right track.

Among the largest groups of early settlers in this area were the Dutch, the English and the Huguenots. Our Reference collection has CDs, periodicals, and books with information on each of these groups.

On CD, we have Dutch in America (REF CD Binder 2), New Netherlands Vital Records (REF CD 28) and Huguenot Settlers: North America and Europe (REF CD 16.) For records of early New Jersey inhabitants, we have CDs of Colonial New Jersey Source Records (REF CD 39), New Jersey Genealogies (REF CD 3), Marriage Index New Jersey 1680-1900 (REF CD 15) and several of Revolutionary War records.

The GSBC/RPL periodical collection also has holdings that may be useful to those in search of early settlers. In addition to the general interest genealogy periodicals, we receive newsletters, which may have pertinent articles, from several nearby genealogical or historical societies. And we have a few newsletters specifically for Dutch researchers. "De Halve Maen" (the journal of the Dutch Colonial Period in America) and the "Blauvelt News" (the magazine of the Association of Blauvelt Descendants) and the "New Netherland Connections" are worth checking out.

We also have many books to help track down those early residents. For Huguenot research, take a look at Huguenot Pedigrees (GEN REF 929.2 HUG) or Huguenot Ancestors Documented by the Huguenot Society of New Jersey (GEN REF 929.2 HUG) or The Huguenots Or The Early French in New Jersey (GEN REF 929.3749 KOE) for clues. Also on the shelves are family histories of prominent Huguenot families such as the Demarests and Terhunes.

For those tracing settlers from the British Isles, there are many books of interest. Try the 3 volume set Colonial Families of New Jersey (GEN REF 929.2 NEW) or Pioneer Families of Northwestern New Jersey (GEN REF 929.2 NOR) or Genealogies of New Jersey Families (GEN REF 929.3749 GEN).

But our collection really shines when it come to the early Dutch inhabitants of this area. We have several books about the Dutch settlers in New Amsterdam. These include: List of Passengers to New York 1654-1664 (GEN REF 929.308691 HOL), Records of the Reformed Dutch Church 1639-1800 (GEN REF 929.3747 NEW) and the Genealogical and Biographical Directory to Persons in New Netherland (GEN REF 929.2 NEW).

On other Reference shelves are even more treasures. We have family histories for many of the local Dutch families. These histories include well-known names, such as Ackerman, Blauvelt, Bogert, Doremus, Haring, Hopper, Lydecker, Osterhout, Quackenbush, Straut, Sturtevent, Terwiliger, Van Dyke, Van Houten, Vreeland, and Zabriskie. Since these families intermarried so often, if your family is mentioned in one of these books, you may find the key to unlock many generations of information.

This is only a sampling of the resources for early Bergen and New Jersey research. Our collection is growing all the time. So even if you have used some of these materials in the past, it may be time to take another look.

The Genealogical Society of Bergen County, NJ, is an organization of people interested in educating others in family and local history preservation. The various ancestral trails of its members span much of the U.S., Canada, most Eastern and Western European countries as well as other parts of the world. Some members trace back to this country's first settlers, while others are the children of recent immigrants. Our purpose is to bring together family tree researchers for mutual assistance and a sharing of research experiences and to encourage the preservation of family history by the public through educational programs and classes.

Membership in the Genealogical Society of Bergen County is open to all those interested in genealogy. Annual dues are $15 (Individual membership), $17 (Family membership), and $18 (Outside of the US).

The Genealogical Society of Bergen County is a tax-exempt organization as described in sections 501 (c) (3) and 509 (a) (2) of the Internal Revenue Code. Bequests, legacies, devises, transfers or gifts to the Society are deductible for federal income, estate, and gift tax purposes as provided by the I.R.C.

The Archivist is published four times a year and mailed to members about the 15th of February, May, August, & November. Members are encouraged to submit queries, articles, hints, suggestions, etc. for publication. The deadline for submissions is the 10th of the month preceding publication. Send material to: Genealogical Society of Bergen County, PO Box 432, Midland Park, NJ 07432

While we strive for accuracy, the Society assumes no responsibility for typos, errors of fact, or opinions expressed or implied by contributors. Errors brought to our attention will be corrected.

From the Editor

Unfortunately we have the sad news of Ben Groo's passing on Oct. 9, 2007. Our thoughts go out to his wife Nancy, their children and grandchildren.

Arnold Lang is still unwell, and Ernest Robb is recuperating from surgery at home. We hope they will get back on their feet soon.

Please send your comments (negative or positive) and submissions to: afinab@hotmail.com or to the Society's mailbox. Deadline for submissions to the February Archivist is January 15.

Genealogy Exhibit

Our very own Arnold Lang has put together an exhibit about genealogy, family research and the Genealogy Society of Bergen County. He has used it in the River Edge and Fair Lawn Libraries, and Norwood and Ridgewood are interested, but any member who would be interested in putting an exhibit in his or her local library, or another venue, please contact Afina Broekman (afinab@hotmail.com or 201-703-8699) to make the arrangements. Libraries generally like an exhibit for a month, other durations can be arranged. Let's spread the word about genealogy and our Society!

Congratulations to GSBC member Walter Tuers. He won "Best Mini Float" in the local July 4th parade which had "Heroes" as its theme. He put together a mini-float, seizing this opportunity to bring Jane Van Reyepen Tuers out of the closet and bring to the public's attention her major contribution to the exposing of the Benedict Arnold/Major Andre treason and her dedication to feeding the starving American POWs. His efforts paid off when his float got the "Best Mini Float" award. Walter has been requested to make presentations to some classes in the local schools.

GSBC member Sharon Olson. Her son David is starring in the TV reality show "Beauty and the Geek" which airs Tuesdays at 8 pm on Channel 11.

New Library Database

The Ridgewood Public Library and the GSBC are now subscribing to Access Newspaper Archives, a large online Archive of Historical Newspapers. Come in to the library to access this treasure trove of information.

GSBC Volunteer Opportunities

Library Committee: Become a Library Patron Assistant. Time commitment is two hours per month. Training will be provided, and you learn more about the library and doing research by working with others. If there are no patrons, you can research and answer queries that come into the GSBC. You can help maintain the surname files or shelf read (an excellent way to get to know the collection).

Program Committee: Help with meeting arrangements or make a presentation! Tell us about your research interests or teach us about your area of expertise.

Hospitality Committee: Greet visitors. Help with refreshments at meetings and events.

In Memoriam Bennett Groo

28 Mar 1938-9 Oct 2007

Our long-term member Bennett Arthur GROO died on October 9, 2007 at The Valley Hospital, Ridgewood, NJ. He was active in the GSBC until shortly before his death. He was born March 28, 1938 to Arthur Howard and Marion (nee Roe) Groo and resided in Caldwell, NJ. He graduated from Lehigh University, Bethlehem, PA in 1962 receiving a Bachelor of Science Degree in Business Administration. He spent the majority of his career in the banking business retiring in 2000 as Trust Officer for PNC Bank. He and his wife Nancy moved in 1966 to Waldwick where he resided until his death. During his many years in Waldwick he was active in many Waldwick organizations. Following his retirement he took up water color painting and studied at the Ridgewood Art Institute. He was an avid genealogist and was on the Board of Trustees of the Orange County, NY Genealogical Society and a active member of the Genealogical Society of Bergen County, NJ. He will be sorely missed by all who knew him. He frequently contributed humorous tidbits to the Archivist. He belonged to the Sons of the American Revolution. Mr. Groo is survived by his wife of forty-three years Nancy, two sons David and Matthew, and a daughter Rebecca, and his four grandchildren, Patrick Martin and Megan Emery Groo of Hoboken, NJ and Christopher James and Nicole Evelyn Brenkert of Midland Park, NJ. Interment was at the Riverside Cemetery in Clinton, NJ. In lieu of flowers the family requests memorial contributions made to Ben Groo Memorial Scholarship, Ridgewood Art Institute, 12 East Glen Avenue, Ridgewood, NJ 07450, or the Waldwick Volunteer Ambulance Corps, PO Box 244, Waldwick, NJ 07463.

The Society would also like to start a Memorial Fund in Ben's name. Anyone wishing to contribute can mail a donation to GSBC, Ben Groo Memorial Fund, PO Box 432, Midland Park, NJ 17432.

Query.

Q2007-03. Harry C. Miller, M.D. from Charlottesville, VA, who went to school in Ridgewood, writes to see if anyone would be interested in his research, or if anyone would have additions.

He has been researching his paternal Grandmother's family: Van Iderstine, Michielsen, Tades, with a smattering of other names sprinkled in as well, Eduwarts (Idens), Verwey, Wynant, Tyse, Morris, etc. He has been able to document the line back from his father, Harry Charles Miller (1887-1974) to Michiel Tades who died around 1671, with a single fuzzy area around 1725.

Anyone wishing to contact him, can do so via email at hkm5922@embarqmail.com

Interesting Websites

NJ Digital Highway will feature a large collection of materials, all accessible from one common search interface. Collections for NJDH are selected by the NJDH Content Workgroup, based on the NJDH collection development policy and the survey of collections in New Jersey Cultural Heritage Institutions. The inaugural collection is "The Changing Face of New Jersey - The Immigration Experience from Earliest Times to the Present." The history of immigration in New Jersey reflects the important role that immigration has played in the development of America. Located at the doorstep of Ellis Island, New Jersey served as a regrouping and staging area for the nation's immigrants. The immigrant experience is documented in New Jersey's labor history, urban history, local history, and documents collections. This initial collection includes: audio and video oral histories, photographs, household and industrial implements, sheepskin deeds, diaries, annual reports of ethnic organizations, and other resources totaling about 10,000 items, and much more! See the website: <http://www.njdigitalhighway.org/collections>

Scotland's Family (www.scotlandsfamily.com) gives a list of what's available for those doing research in Scotland. In addition to vital records, they can point you to outbound boats to America, poorhouse records, and helpful definitions of Scottish words

From Scottish Life, Summer 2007, thanks to Marion Armstrong

In the First Person (www.inthefirstperson.com) aims to create an index of editorially valuable first person narratives in English, and to provide bibliographic records for them. This is a venture of Alexander Street Press, and contains audio and video files, diaries, letters and oral histories from collections and repositories around the world. Some collections are available online free, some only by subscription, but you will be able to find out where they are located, and how to contact the repository.

From NE Ancestors, Summer 2007, thanks to Marion Armstrong

Sampubco (short for Samuelson Publishing Company) provides a searchable index of wills, letters of administrations, naturalizations and more. A search engine lets you search each type of record separately, and gives the state, county, and volume and pagenumber. You can then order a copy of the original record. If the particular record has been transcribed and is posted on Rootsweb, a link is provided. The owner encourages transcription and posting. The site is a bit cumbersome to use, but the results can be worth it. I searched for Tiffany wills, and came up with the wills of several brothers of the man I am looking for. Time periods differ, depending on what's available. The site is continually updated, last on 13 Oct 2007.

Library Lock-In

By Afina Broekman

On October 13, 2007 the Ridgewood Public Library again became a genealogist's heaven. After the library closed at 5 pm, fifty seven of our members were locked in to enjoy uninterrupted research time and good fellowship. Delicious sandwiches were served to fortify us for our research. Heavenly desserts were brought in by volunteers. All the library computers were at our disposal, and people could do their own research, or take advantage of many workshops given by other members.

I would like to thank the main organizers of this event: Peggy Norris and Nancy Groo, who worked tirelessly to make this event again a success. And to anyone else who helped before after, and during the event a big thank-you. This is truly an event for members by members.

Research In The Netherlands

Afina Broekman

Recently an article appeared in the Rootsweb Review about doing online research in the Netherlands. (Rootsweb Review, 9/26/2007, Vol.10, No. 39, thanks to Margaret Kaiser for bringing it to my attention). The abstract can be seen at <http://ftp.rootsweb.com/pub/review/2007/0926.txt>. You can get the complete article from Rootsweb by sending e-mail to Editor-RWR@rootsweb.com ("Netherlands Article" in the subject line). The authors do a good job of explaining the civil registration system in the Netherlands, and point to some excellent webpages. I have only seen the abstract, but I thought to expand a bit in what is mentioned there.

As the article mentions, we have Napoleon to thank for the extensive and thorough civil registration system. Starting in 1811 (and 1795 in the southern provinces and Belgium) every birth, marriage and death had to be registered with the civil authorities. Only civil marriages were valid (but you are free to have a religious ceremony also). In every town these registers were indexed at the end of the year, and later collected into 10-year indexes. If you know the place, you only need a general idea of the year to find your ancestor in the 10-yr table. But volunteers are now putting in a major effort to get the extracts of the actual certificates into the database GenLias (www.genlias.nl, click on English). To see whether your town is covered go to "Actual Content."

In addition most provinces maintain websites with lots of information relating to the history of the province. The Frisian Archive (<http://www.tresoar.nl/>) and the Zeeland Archive (<http://www.zeeuwsarchief.nl/>) also have digitized searchable records from before 1811. Other archives have digitized all kinds of interesting records from visitors to Domburg (Zeeland) to probate records (many provinces). Some town archives are also adding genealogical data. Amsterdam (<http://stadsarchief.amsterdam.nl/>) has digitized all its baptismal records, the search results contain all information, and a scan can be ordered. Almelo (the town my father came from) has all marriage and death certificates from 1811 on scanned and freely available to save or print.

The Archives are also adding many old photo's and maps. Again Amsterdam is excellent, but many other Archives have great collections online, frequently searchable by address.

The abstract mentions the website Geneaknowhow.net (<http://geneaknowhow.net/>). The site has several sections. "Digital Resources in the Netherlands and Belgium" has lists of the available online information, organized by province. "From paper to pixels" contains over 100,000 scanned pages from a variety of sources, also organized by province. "The Past in Pictures" has pictures of occupations. And they have the phonebook from 1915 transcribed online. All this has been done with volunteers only.

The abstract also mentions <http://www.archieven.nl/> This is a database that can search through a number of municipal and provincial archives at one time. No actual scans are included, but there are rather detailed descriptions of the source. This site does not have an English interface.

Not all of it is available in English, but if you are planning serious research in the Netherlands, it would be good to get some acquaintance with the language. And there is always the possibility to ask for help, I know of at least one member who is fluent in Dutch.

On the Lighter Side

Twisted Relations

Thanks to Ben Groo

A curious case of complicated relationship exists in Oakland, as a result of a father and son marrying two sisters. Alinie Tolentino de Figuereda, aged fifty, married May Carmyn, an eighteen-year old girl, and Wilfred A. de Figuereda, aged eighteen, married Katherine Carmyn, twenty-three years old.

Thus the boy will be his father's brother-in law, the two sisters will be sisters-in-law, the father's wife will be a stepmother to her brother in-law, the son's wife will be the old gentleman's daughter-in-law as well as sister-in-law. If children are born to the wife of the son, the grandfather will be their uncle, and should there be children in the father's home the son will be uncle and step-brother, the old man's wife will be aunt and step-grandmother to her sister's little ones.
